GLOSSARY OF ACADEMIC TERMINOLOGY 46

GLOSSARY OF YESHIVA UNIVERSITY TERMINOLOGY

ABOUT YESHIVA UNIVERSITY

Yeshiva University is the world's premier Jewish higher education. Rooted in Jewish thought and tradition, it is the educational, spiritual and intellectual epicenter of a movement that is dedicated to advancing the moral and material betterment of the Jewish community and broader society, in the service of God.

In September 2017, Ari Berman was inaugurated as the fifth president of Yeshiva University. He succeeded Richard M. Joel, who was inaugurated in 2003. Norman Lamm had held the office since 1976. President Berman's two other predecessors were Bernard Revel, president from 1915 to 1940, and Samuel Belkin, who served from 1943 to 1975. UNIVERSITY POLICIES

Equal Opportunity

Yeshiva University has a long-standing commitment to equity and affirmative action. We apply every good faith effort in achieving nondiscrimination and equality of opportunity in employment and in all spheres of academic life. All University-wide decisions with regard to faculty, staff and students are based on consistent and equally applied standards of excellence.

ASSOCIATE OF ARTS IN LIBERAL ARTS

Program Overview

The Associate of Arts (AA) in Liberal Arts offers students the best of Yeshiva University's rigorous Jewish and liberal arts education and an embracing community of staff and students. As a result of a carefully planned curriculum, students gain the skills and knowledge needed to succeed. Upon graduation, students will be prepared to continue their education at the Bachelor's level or to pursue professional opportunities. As part of the AA in Liberal Arts, students enroll in YU's dual honors program, where students take a full Jewish studies program in addition to their liberal arts courses. Jewish studies provides the framework for consideration of ethical issues, a major component of the University's curriculum.

Students are taught by distinguished faculty holding positions in liberal arts and professional communities and who offer students thorough background in theoretical and practical aspects of liberal arts. Because students hail from a wide geographic area, they have an opportunity to broaden their horizons through experiences that will help them thrive in the global environment.

Men's programming is facilitated through the uptown campus, while women's programming is centered at the Beren Campus in Midtown Manhattan.

Degree Requirements

Course and Credit Requirement

Students must complete a minimum of 60 credits, including all degree requirements as well as the required Jewish Studies courses.

Residence Requirement

Students must successfully complete at least 54 degree credits in liberal arts programs at Yeshiva University, with no more than 6 outside credits applied to courses in the program of study.

Curriculum and Course Requirements

The AA in Liberal Arts offers students at Yeshiva University—a rigorous liberal arts education combined with our distinctive on-campus experience. Faculty at Yeshiva's Katz School have designed a 60-credit program that integrates traditional liberal arts disciplines such as sociology, psychology and resources with emerging fields, including data science and information systems. The imaginative College courses will employ project-based curriculum, where students will learn by doing. Ideas brought to life, using New York City as a classroom. The AA in Liberal Arts is a full-time, residential program.

Course Descriptions

ACC 1003 Foundations of Financial Accounting I

Companies track their finances and communicate the results to stakeholders according to general accepted accounting principles (GAAP). This course is designed to provide an understanding of financial accounting fundamentals for prospective users and managers. Students will develop the skills for segmenting, recording, and reporting basic financial data. The course will also develop basic technical skills needed to analyze financial statements. Prerequisite: IDS 1001

ACC 1004 Foundations of Financial Accounting II

This course builds on the understanding and skills related to adjusting, and completing the accounting cycle to help students master the remaining technical skills needed to prepare financial statements and disclosures including balance sheets and related assets, liabilities, and equity; calculate tax issues; investment income reporting; cash flow; and basic cost accounting. Prerequisite: ACC 1003

ECO 1031 Introductory Economics I: Micro

This course introduces students to economic analysis: supply and demand, behavior of firms and consumers; how markets work; market failures; policy issues such as taxation, regulation, and redistribution of income.

ECO 1041 Introductory Economics II: Macro

This course builds on Introductory Economics I, introducing macroeconomic analysis: general equilibrium, business cycles, inflation, unemployment; national income accounting; policy and the financial system, fiscal policy and social insurance; theories of international trade; long-term growth. Prerequisite: ECO 1031.

FYSM 1012 Business Communication

This course seeks to develop skills that are important to success within many if not all chosen professions. All interactions in business require communications skills, written or oral, whether in large or small group settings. It is especially important for students contemplating careers in business. Communications skills will enhance their career development and success. Prerequisite: FYWR 1020.

FYWR 1020 First Year Writing

This course introduces students to college-level writing and prepares them for other academic work by deepening reading comprehension and critical thinking skills. This course emphasizes the writing process so that students can develop strategies for invention, exploration, and revision. First Year Writing encourages rhetorical flexibility and helps students integrate and build on sources in order to consider different viewpoints, gain more knowledge, and learn how to cite others' words and ideas according to academic documentation practices.

IDS 1001 Business Algebra

This course provides a review of computational and problem-solving skills. Included is a presentation of a broad scope of fundamental mathematical concepts in applied mathematics as to accounting, finance, management, and marketing, with examples drawn from different business disciplines.

IDS 1131 Statistics for Business

This course includes modern statistical methods as a basis for decision making. Topics include fundamentals of probability, discrete and continuous distributions, descriptive statistics, and inferential statistics. Prerequisite: IDS 1001.

IDS 1020 Introduction to Information Systems

This course provides the background necessary to make a career out of computer-based information systems and to be an end-user. The course includes hands-on experience with personal computers and information systems management. Group and individual computer assignments expose students to systems analysis and database management. Management aspects focus on computer technology, systems design, and information processing by management. Prerequisite: IDS 1001.

IDS 1540 Introduction to Data Science

This course introduces basic concepts and applications of data science. Topics include an overview of the analytical process and the role of the analyst, applied descriptive statistics, exploratory data analysis, data visualization, reporting, and data driven storytelling. Students will apply these analytic tools and organizational issues, creating insights and solving problems. Prerequisites: IDS 1131, IDS 1020, ECO 1031.

INDS 1210 College Experience

This course is designed to strengthen skills essential to college, with further applications to post-college plans. Included are study and test-taking strategies; effective note-taking skills; time management techniques; creative and critical thinking skills; college services and resources; etiquette, procedures, regulations and terminology; and library resources, research strategies, and information skills, blended, and traditional learning environments.

INDS 2660 Praxis and Reflection

Challenged students to reflect on, reimagine, and readdress emerging college students, community members, and professionals. Through research, planning, and multimodal digital writing, students reflect on their academic and professional development—both successes and challenges—clarify strengths, weaknesses, goals, and future plans. The self-reflective nature of this experience asks students to identify and engage with specific artifacts, institutions, and individuals that have influenced their lives. This course also asks students to discuss Judaism and Jewish culture have influenced their academic, personal and professional goals and identities. College Experience credits.

MAN 1020 Principles of Strategy

This course focuses on developing the skills and knowledge for successful managerial performance in the global business environment. With an emphasis on self-assessment and application, students engage in a close examination and practice of core managerial competencies. Topics include problem solving, communication, empowerment and motivation, conflict management, power, and performance improvement. A major objective is to recognize the relationship between integrated functional business operations, competitive success factors, as well as monitoring measurements of organizational performance. Effective 21st century students understand a wide range of technical and social inter-relationships to be successful in the global marketplace. Students gain analytical and behavioral tools for working in complex environments. Prerequisite: IDS 1001.

MAN 1030 Introduction to Business

Going beyond a conceptual understanding of what business is, this course takes a practical approach to business from the perspective of the "founder." An Introduction to Business for the starting, financing, marketing, and managing of businesses in a digitally interconnected, globally distributed world. Students learn businesses from a holistic and enterprise wide perspective, and as a jumping off point to specialized vertical markets. Given its place in the world economy, New York City provides a rich history of best practices in successful businesses and invaluable lessons from failed ones.

MAN 2110 Organizational Behavior

This course is directed toward the attainment of independent objectives: 1) developing an understanding of organizational effectiveness as a key element of strategy implementation in organizations, 2) understanding how organizational planning, design, control, and human resource decisions are critical to building and sustaining successful organizations, and 3) developing sensitivity to the realities of organizational world situations. These include how decisions affect individuals in organizations and subsequent commitment to implementation. Prerequisite: MAN 1020.

MAN 2370 Human Resources

This course explores human resources management to effectively managing personnel to achieve corporate objectives; covers the link between human resources management, strategic planning, employee recruitment, development, and impact of equal opportunity employment programs; human resources training programs, performance evaluation, direct and indirect compensation, and comparable worth. Prerequisite: MAN 1020

SPEE 1010 Speech Communication

This course considers effective informal and formal speaking for informative and persuasive purposes. Major focuses include logical organization, psychological research of topics, precise and clear vocabulary, clear and pleasant vocal pattern and application of rhetoric in communicating ideas.

UNDERGRADUATE JEWISH STUDIES

The guiding vision of Yeshiva University is to bring the best of the heritage of contemporary

S. DANIEL ABRAHAM ISRAEL PROGRAM

For the benefit of those students who wish to spend a year in Israel with a concentration in Jewish studies, Yeshiva University, with the approval of the New York State Education Department and the government of Israel, has established the S. Daniel Abraham Israel Program. Under this program, students may receive credit at the university at any one of more than 40 Israeli institutions. A current list of such institutions and the application form for the program is available upon request from the Office of Admissions and online at <http://yup.org/israel>. Students must be accepted by Yeshiva University as well as a participating Israeli institution in order to be enrolled in the Israel Program.

The Israel Program enables students to:

- Incorporate study at Israeli yeshivot, women's seminaries, and universities into their college years, enhancing their Yeshiva University experience
- Immerse themselves in intense, concentrated study of Tanach, Jewish philosophy, and other subjects
- Increase fluency in oral and written Hebrew
- Experience Israel firsthand: the land, people, history, and culture

Recognized under New York State law, Yeshiva University extension of the program is operated at the Yeshiva University Israel Campus in Jerusalem and supervised by full-time Yeshiva University staff. All courses and credits earned while in the program appear as Yeshiva University credits on the student's permanent record and on transcripts made from this record. Credits earned from the Israel Program are not included in fulfillment of the degree requirement at the Yeshiva University New York campus.

Associate students on the Israel Program will earn 6 credits each, up to a total of 12 credits. They will have academic status as half-time students at Yeshiva University. As Yeshiva University students in the Israel Program are eligible for applicable state and federal financial aid.

Beren Campus students will satisfy their 12-credit Jewish Studies requirement through their 12 Israel Program credits.

Wilf Campus students will be exempt from 3 credits of their graduate Torah Studies program for the first two semesters while enrolled in the associate programs, for a total of 12 credits.

Generally, the academic information and policies of the Mordecai D. Katz Associate Programs apply to the S. Daniel Abraham Israel Program. The program, however, follows the standard Israeli academic calendar under which classes may begin earlier and end somewhat later than in the United States; students who take courses in Israel are cautioned that the academic year spent in study in Israel may end too late for students to attend the summer sessions in the United States. They should also note that grades for the fall semester are made available in late spring, and grades for the spring are made available in late summer, which may coincide with the start of sessions at U.S. institutions.

Yeshiva University's Israel representatives visit schools regularly and offer comprehensive services including academic guidance, career planning and personal counseling. All facets of the admissions process may be addressed by our Israel staff as well, culminating with on-site Israel registration for the next classes at Yeshiva. In addition, the program sponsor lectures and activities where students gather under the auspices of Yeshiva staff. All

ATTENDANCE AND BEHAVIOR POLICIES

Attendance Policy

Students are expected to attend every program day, absent. It is impossible to learn, grow, and improve academically if students are not present. Any excused absence must be documented and may relate to the following:

- illness/injury of self or family member
- bereavement
- legal/court appointments requiring the student's attendance

To the extent possible, students should inform their professors of any expected absences. Written documentation should be provided by the student to the professor on the class day immediately following the absence.

Attendance is required for all students. If a student is absent for 5 or more sessions in the semester and does not officially withdraw from the course or otherwise advise the Program Director, the student will receive a grade of G (which is counted as failure) and will be required to repeat the course at the student's expense (as applicable). See below for details.

Lateness (note: policy is in effect for lateness to any official requirements, including but not limited to classes, workshops and events): tardiness of 15 to 30 mins. = half absence; 30 mins. or longer = full absence

Absence:

Number of Absences from Class	Effect on Final Grading
0-2	No grade reduction
3	Full grade reduction
4	Another full grade reduction
5	Receive grade of G (counted as failure); Repeat course at student's expense (as applicable)

Leaving class early: 15 to 30 mins. = half absence; 30 mins. or longer = full absence

Conduct Policy:

Students are expected to demonstrate ethical and normative behavior in their interactions with the YU community and others. Students are expected to be abide by the Undergraduate Student Bill of Rights and Responsibilities.

In addition, basic tenets for students include:

- Accepting responsibility and resulting consequences for inappropriate conduct .
- Consistently acting with courtesy and respect towards others.
- Refraining from using profanity, making or displaying gestures with the intent to be offensive.
- Punctuality and preparedness for classes, tutoring sessions and other academic commitments.
- Respect for YU property and the personal property of others.
- Dressing appropriately for an academic environment that is not disruptive to learning.
- Complying with all University policies.

Violating any of the above tenets (or the spirit of said tenets)

credits, honors, and awards; graduation and conferring of any degree, diploma, or certificate upon the student are entirely subject to the disciplinary powers of the University. The student must maintain high standards of ethical and academic conduct. A student may be placed on probation, or suspended by the University at any time for infringement of these standards.

Connected Device Policy:

We understand that cell phones and other digital devices are part of the fabric of our lives, and that they can assist with safety and communication, but they can also be a distraction in the classroom. Therefore, unless sanctioned by a faculty member (or the Office of Disability Services) for an appropriate academic or relevant purpose, personal electronic devices (e.g., cell phones, apple watches, air pods, etc.) should be turned off and/or stored during instructional time.

Description of Grades

There are two categories of grades that are recorded on a student's transcript. Academic grades note academic achievement in a course of study; administrative grades note a student's status in a course of study.

Satisfactory Progress Standards

All students must meet the standards of good academic standing and satisfactory academic progress as defined below. Students may, in exceptional cases, be done during the summer. Per credit tuition is charged.

There are two levels of scholastic discipline for all students regardless of status or program: probation and dismissal. If a s

Records and Transcripts

Students may generate unofficial transcripts through InsideTrack. Current or former students who want official transcripts should visit www.yu.edu/transcripts regarding fees, regulations, and procedures governing the issuance of official transcripts.

A transcript is not issued without a student's written request, except to the (s)ec(s) agency upon whom the student is financially dependent, or as provided. Yeshiva University's privacy policy to the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 (FERPA) may be accessed at www.yu.edu/ferpa.

No official transcript will be issued for a student unless the student's record with the University is completely clear. Student's official records are sent only in the form of a transcript. No partial records are sent. Transcripts list courses in progress without grades.

Change of Name or Address

A student who wishes to change either his or her name on school records must complete a Request for Change of Name on School Records Form. Proof of name is required. Students who change their local residences are required to notify the Office of Registrar within 10 days by updating their addresses and phone numbers online through InsideTrack. A student is responsible for all mail sent to the old address if his or her address has not been updated.

Diplomas

Duplicate or revised diplomas may be secured under certain circumstances. The Duplicate Diploma Request Form is at www.yu.edu/registrar

Exceptions to Academic Policies

Any exception to school policies and regulations such as change requirements, prerequisites and final exams, must be approved in writing by the Program Director. Students should consult their Academic Adviser for other requests.

ACADEMIC INTEGRITY POLICY

Academic Integrity

The submission by a student of any examination, course, or degree requirement is assumed to guarantee that the thoughts and expressions therein not expressly credited are the student's own. Evidence to the contrary will result in appropriate penalties, described below.

Cheating on Written Exams

Cheating is an affront on academic integrity and ethics. Any dishonesty undermines your work and the work of classmates and the institution in which the offense was committed.

Plagiarism

In defining plagiarism, this policy distinguishes between Intentional Misrepresentation and Misuse of Sources. These are two clear extremes, but this policy also recognizes there can be a continuum between them.

Intentional Misrepresentation occurs when a student deliberately uses someone's language, ideas, or other original (not common-knowledge) work without acknowledging the source. Examples include but are not limited to: a) Assignment is downloaded from an Internet source and/or obtained from a friend; b) Assignment is obtained from someone else (including another student); c) Assignment contains part or all of another person's (including another student) work, without acknowledgment of the source; or d) Assignment content is copied and pasted from an Internet source, without acknowledgement of the source.

Misuse of Sources is the unintentional misappropriation of the language, ideas, and work of others due to a lack of understanding of the conventions of citation and documentation, including paraphrasing, quoting, and the parameters of common knowledge.

Students are responsible for knowing how to quote from, paraphrase, and cite sources correctly. However, when a student has attempted to acknowledge a source but has done so incompletely, the instructor, perhaps in consultation with other faculty, administrators, or an academic integrity committee, determine that the issue is Misuse of Sources or unsuccessful writing, rather than Intentional Misrepresentation.

Penalties and Procedures for Violating Academic Integrity Standards

Accordingly, students who act in a dishonest manner by cheating on exams or plagiarizing are subject to penalty under the following procedures.

Please Note: If a faculty member determines that a student has used sources on an assignment, he/she may lower the grade on the assignment in question (including to a grade of "F"). No additional penalty should be imposed.

Any member of the Yeshiva University community may report an act of cheating on an exam or plagiarism. The complainant should report the incident immediately, and the student(s) involved are responsible for the outcome. (ethics. An

If a student commits one of the above (or similar) violations, a faculty member will propose an appropriate penalty. If the student accepts the proposed penalty, the faculty member will notify the Director of the program in which the student is enrolled of the action taken. If the student denies the allegation or the penalty, the faculty member will notify the program director, who will then convene a hearing of the CAS in accordance with the procedures outlined above.

Athletics

Yeshiva University offers undergraduate students an array of athletic opportunities through its collegiate, intramural, and recreational athletic programs. Additionally, there are various intramural activities on the Beren Campus for women and on the Wilf Campus for men. Each campus hosts a gymnasium and fitness centers for student use. To see game schedules, facilities hours, and more information about the athletics at Yeshiva University, see the Athletics website at www.yumacs.com. You can also visit the YU Store from the Athletics website to purchase YU gear.

Career Support

The Shevet Glaubach Center (SGC) for Career Strategy and Professional Development's goal is to educate and empower YU students to succeed at every stage of their career. The SGC provides individualized career counseling, where they assist students with resume and interview preparation, job search techniques, and graduate school applications. They offer job and internship opportunities through the YU CareerLink management system, on-campus recruiting events, and career fairs. They also organize workshops, panels, and networking events to educate and prepare students for a variety of careers and to connect them with industry professionals. Students are encouraged to visit the SGC early on in their time at YU as the career development process should start from the moment college begins. Counseling Center

The Yeshiva University Counseling Center is committed to supporting students academically, emotionally, and spiritually. The Counseling Center provides undergraduate students a wide range of services, including assessment, short-term individual psychotherapy and medication management, crisis intervention, and psycho-education workshops. Students dealing with adjustment problems, loneliness, depression, anxiety, or who want to talk are encouraged to make an appointment. All services at the Counseling Center are free and confidential. Dining Services

All undergraduate students living on campus are required to participate in a meal plan, which adds cafeteria funds on the student's ID card. Exemptions from this requirement will be considered if students have special circumstances. Students who are exempt from living on campus may choose to add money to their cafeteria funds.

There are multiple cafeterias and café stores on campus. Near each campus, there are several kosher restaurants that allow students to purchase food with their ID card. Purchases made with student cafeteria funds in on-campus eateries and off-campus participating restaurants are tax-free. All cafeterias at the Beren and Wilf Campuses are certified kosher by the OU (Orthodox Union). For more information about the on-campus and off-campus dining options, locations, and hours, visit: https://www.yu.edu/dining

Health Services

Professionally staffed Student Health Centers are located on all campuses. Mount Sinai Beth Israel (MSBI) administers the Undergraduate Student Health Program and offers care for respiratory and minor injuries on campus at no cost to the student. The Health Centers are open for walk-in care during business hours, and medical care is provided by a physician assistant or nurse practitioner under the supervision of a physician. Should a student require emergency department services, specialist physician services, diagnostic testing, they will be referred through the MSBI Student Health Services network of providers. The Health Center staff reviews the health forms and immunization history of entering students to ensure compliance with New York State Public Law, which requires that all students have proof of measles, mumps and rubella (MMR) immunization history on file. Immunization is available on campus for those in need.

Madrichim, Madrichot, and Office of Spiritual Guidance

Each YU student is assigned a madrichon (student counselor) who is available to help them with the transition to religious life and to college. Madrichim and madrichot are also available to help them share their experiences with their peers and support their religious growth.

Beren Campus The Madrichot are overseen by the Director of Spiritual Guidance.
For more information, email spiritual@yu.edu or call 646-592-4126.

Wilf Campus:

Mashgichim and Mashgichim Ruchani'im

Our mashgichim are concerned about the personal, cultural, and religious life of each student and strive to develop a meaningful relationship with each student. They offer guidance on issues of spiritual exploration, religious life on campus, and transition to YU's challenging dual curriculum. They also arrange for study partnerships, challenge groups, and shiurim (lectures) on a range of topics.

ADMISSIONS

Admission Requirements

To qualify for admissions, students applying for the AA in Liberal Arts Management must have a minimum high school average of at least 75 or its equivalent. The Admissions Office takes a holistic approach by reviewing a student's overall record, including interests, academic achievements, and character.

Types of Admission

Each admitted student is classified under one of the following categories:

Regular Admittance Students admitted with permission to work toward diplomas. A regular student admitted with a condition must resolve it within the time limit set by the Office of Admissions to maintain regular student status.

Transfer Students Applicants who have attended another college must satisfy the same requirements as applicants who come directly from high school. They must have maintained a C average or equivalent at the institution from which they are transferring. In order to have their previous

Students must request that their scores be sent to Yesbita (code 2990), which they do online. Students need not fill out any additional forms. However, students should note that only certain AP exams are applicable to AA and AS requirements. The Program Director will evaluate if a course satisfies an AA or AS course requirement.

Art Floor The 8th floor of 215 Lexington Ave houses the Stern College department, including studios and Mac computer labs.

Beit Midras Study hall for Jewish learning. There are multiple batei midrash on each campus.

Belfer Wind Tunnel The sidewalk on Amsterdam Avenue between Rabin Belfer Hall gets very windy during certain weather conditions. Hold on to loose hats and papers! This explanation for this phenomenon can be found in the following Commentator article: <http://yucommentator.org/2013/08/the-belfer-wind-tunnel-explained/>

Beren The Beren Campus is located in Midtown Manhattan and is composed of two academic buildings and four dormitory buildings. At Beren, you will find undergraduate women (from Katz, Stern, and Sy Syms) and several graduate programs (Katz's MS in Cybersecurity, Sy Syms' MSc in AI, and SCW's GPATS, to name a few).

Brookdale The main dorm on the Beren Campus. Brookdale is also where students can catch the Washington Heights-bound intercampus shuttle from Brookdale.

Caf Card Your student ID card doubles as a "caf card," which means that you can use it to purchase food and drinks at the campus cafes.

IsraelA large number of students at YU choose to take a gap year in Israel between high school and college.

Katz/Katz School/Katz School of Science and Health/Katz School of Administration AA in Liberal Arts and AS in Management undergraduate programs as well as multiple graduate programs.

Local Local shuttles are vans which transport you between campus buildings (Beren only) and to nearby transit hubs and large intersections (near Beren and near Wilf).

Morg Short for Morgenstern Residence Hall. The Morg Lounge is popular for spiritual television viewing and often hosts parties for sporting events and other broadcasts. The Wilf Campus shuttle stop is outside of Morg.

Night Sede Formal or semi-formal Torah learning that occurs at night.

North Wing On the Beren Campus, the North Wing is the reference library and has additional study spaces.

Office Hours Teachers and administrators offer Office Hours as times when students can make appointments or drop by to ask questions or get extra help.

Orientation A multi-day program run at the beginning of each semester teaches new students about their upcoming college experience, campus life, and resources. Students are required to attend the orientation of their first semester on campus.

Pesach/Passover During the Jewish holiday of Pesach, which usually falls in April, all dormitory buildings on the Beren and Wilf Campuses are closed. Specific dates each year will be sent out via email.

RA/HRA/GA Resident Advisers on each campus are older students for University Housing and Residence Life. They are available to help you with your dining experience, and they plan floor parties and activities to create a mini community on your dorm floor.
